

Lansburgh &amp; Bro.

This Will Make the HOUSEKEEPERS
HAPPY.

4236 Handkerchief Bordered Pillow Cases.....	9c
4536 Hemstitched Pillow Cases.....	10c
4236 Hemstitched Pillow Cases.....	12 1/2c
4536 Hemstitched Pillow Cases, best cotton.....	15c
4536 Hemmed Sheets.....	32 1/2c
7236 Hemmed Sheets.....	37 1/2c
15130 Sheets, made of best cotton.....	48c
We are selling an excellent 4-4 Bleached Cotton.....	5c yard
5-4 Unbleached Sheeting good quality.....	12 1/2c
New Spring Percales, in the newest colorings.....	10 1/2c
Domestic department. First floor.

Lansburgh &amp; Bro.

420, 422, 424, 426 7th St.

JUST AS YOU SAY.

We're just as well pleased to sell you ON CREDIT as though you laid down the cash. Prices won't be raised a penny if you want to pay the little each week or month. We will ask you to sign a note or pay in interest.

With the advent of Spring comes a need for Matting, Bay Carriages, Refrigerators, Iron Beds, Sideboards, Bedroom Suits, etc. We take this time to quote you particularly low prices.

We make, line and lay all carpets free, and charge nothing for the waste in matching figures. The matting we lay down without extra cost.

Grogan's

MAMMOTH
CREDIT HOUSE.817-819-821-823 Seventh St.
Between H and I.Spring
Clearing
Sale of PIANOS.

We are now selling off Pianos for cash at 50% of retail price. Pianos that have been out at rent, at very low prices to keep our customers from being overcharged.

We have good Square Pianos for sale at $50, and Upright Pianos at $25, on $5 and $10 monthly payments, or at special discounts for cash. Please call and see for them.

JOHN F. ELLIS & CO.,
CHECKING PIANO ROOMS,
357 PA. AVE.

DON'T YOU KNOW

That the best place to buy SHEET MUSIC is the place where you can get just what is wanted without being obliged to wait two or three days and perhaps longer.

OUR STOCK of music comprises the latest and best editions of FOREIGN and American publications, including a great variety of books on any musical subject. MUSIC TEACHERS are especially invited to examine our stock, to whom we offer the best possible discounts.

Sanders & Stayman,
Leading Pianos, Organs and Music,
1327 F Street N. W.,
11 North Charles St., Baltimore, Md.

Steinway Pianos.
There's a carefully used Steinway here you're going to like. It's a grand piano, 6' 6" long, 4' 6" wide, 4' 6" high. It's a grand piano, 6' 6" long, 4' 6" wide, 4' 6" high. It's a grand piano, 6' 6" long, 4' 6" wide, 4' 6" high.

Remnants of Dresses, Lawns and Percales, worth $1.00 to $2.00, now at 25c.
EISENMANN'S, 806 Seventh St., 1004-1005 Penn. Ave.

Violins for a bunch.
KING'S PALACE,
824-826 7th Street, 715 Market Space.

MORE MARINES WANTED.
Orders for the Recruiting of an Additional Battalion.

The Secretary of the Navy desires a Battalion of Marines. The department gave orders this morning for the recruiting of the additional battalion. This battalion of Marines will be sent to the Key West fleet. The fleet is deficient in men already and has no force of any kind that could be utilized for land service.

It is thought probable that the fleet, when it attacks Havana, will find it necessary to land a force.

The Secretary of the Navy, in his last annual report, recommended this increase in the Marines.

Presidential Nominations.
The President has sent the following nominations to the Senate:

Treasurer—Leander M. Shubert, of Iowa, to be receiver of customs for the port of Canal Zone.

Interior—Charles Harris, of California, receiver of public moneys at Visalia, Cal.

Navy—Richard H. Robinson, of Ohio, to be an assistant naval constructor in the Navy; Frederick C. Brown, of Massachusetts, to be a chaplain in the Navy.

Interesting Pension Legislation.
A bill providing that in case a pensioner dies his wife or minor children without just cause, half of his pension shall be paid to the mother or guardian of the children, was passed by the House yesterday.

The House yesterday passed a bill providing that if veterans now drawing pensions serve in a war against Spain they shall not be by reason of that service impair their right to draw pensions.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Grayson Dulin entertained at progressive euchre last night at their beautiful home on Sixteenth Street. On each of the four tables lay gold clouded table cloths embellished with the stars and stripes and tying a bow and streamers of red, white and blue. Each of the handsome parlors were artistically arranged with Easter lilies, spiraea and other spring flowers, while the dining room decorations were groups of small silk flags clustered beneath the chandelier from which were suspended national ribbons intertwined with asparagus sprays which were draped at the four corners of the table. A bowl of crimson and white roses stood in the center framed in a square of feathery vines.

Chief among the beautiful weddings of last week was that of Miss Marie Genevieve Storch and Mr. William Edward Wood, which was solemnized last Tuesday at 1 o'clock at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. W. C. Storch, Rev. Father Scanlon, pastor of Trinity Church, Georgetown, performed the ceremony, assisted by Rev. Father Hagan of Georgetown University, Mr. and Mrs. Wood are now enjoying a honeymoon trip to the North.

The inaugural concert of the National Conservatory of Music will be given this evening at the Universalist Church. The program includes some of the most prominent musicians and vocalists in the Washington musical world, among them being Mr. Harry Wheaton, Howard, Mr. E. Frank Gebert, Mrs. E. J. Perkins, Mr. Henry Jaeger, Mr. Melville Hensley, Mr. W. H. Smith, Mr. Arthur Knapp and Mr. Arthur Earnest. A medley of dainty songs will be given by Messrs. Cullen and Collins and the entertainment will conclude with military selections by members of the Marine Band.

The minister from Switzerland and Madame Podo entertained at dinner last night. The guests were the Vice-President and Mrs. Hobart, the Mexican Minister and Madame Romero, the Minister from Portugal and the Viscountess Santo Thyra, Mr. and Mrs. Adams, Miss Ward, Mr. and Mrs. VanRensselaer, Miss Garg, the German Ambassador, Dr. Hollenbeck and the French Ambassador, M. Cambon. The table was fragrant with gold and silver roses that were grouped with carnations in crystal vases on either side of the floral center square in which was placed the silver-plated centerpiece and tulips of brilliant hue. China birds in natural colors were grouped among the flowers and the clusters of pink carnations at the end of the table burned under pink lace shades.

Mrs. Frank Howard, who has been visiting her mother in Baltimore, will return to her home in this city today.

Mrs. Blanche Kendra Diller and Miss Ella Kendra, accompanied by their great uncle, Mr. Henry Kendra, left for New York yesterday to attend the wedding of Mr. Leo F. Kendra, of this city, and Miss Kelly, of New York.

The ladies of the Pierce Guild have issued cards for an at home, Thursday, April 21, from 7 o'clock to 9 o'clock, at the residence of Mrs. William Henderson Moses, No. 215 Wyoming Avenue.

The ladies of that guild have undertaken the revision of a new issue of the Founding Hospital, which will be the special object of the event. The young ladies who will assist are Miss Barber, Miss Wilson, Miss Kenna, Miss Evans, and Misses Kaufmann, Hough, Britton, Perkins, Tower, Hartzell, Hayes, Colton, and Clark.

Among the belles of the capital who went over to Baltimore to attend the concluding German of the series of dances that have been given throughout the past winter of the Friday Cotillon Club, were Miss Emily Page Kemp, Miss Early and Miss Gladys Fowler.

Mr. and Mrs. Pellet are visiting Florida and other places of interest in the South.

Invitations have been issued by the National Society of Colonial Dames of America for a reception to be held tomorrow at 9 o'clock at the Washington Club. The entertainment will be one of the most notable events of the Spring.

Miss Alice Mitchell left yesterday for New York to sail later in the week for Berlin to resume her musical studies which were interrupted several months ago by the death of her sister, Mrs. Albert Barnes.

Miss Adela E. Bowen and Mr. William P. Belt, both of Hyattsville, were married yesterday at the residence of St. Paul's English Lutheran Church. Mr. and Mrs. Belt will reside in Hyattsville, where Mrs. Belt will be at home Thursdays after May 1.

One of the most interesting homes in historic Georgetown is the Tudor place. The sage palm of revolutionary fame stands in the garden, and the place is a gem in the city. It is a gem in the city. It is a gem in the city.

It stands, green and thrifty, above banks of red and white camellias, azaleas and roses, needing never a temperature of 60 or 70 degrees.

In 1775, when the historic corner of tea was dumped into Boston harbor, there were on board three small palms. The largest was carefully sent to Mount Vernon to be planted in the home of George Washington. The second, a small palm, was sent to Morris, in Morristown, while the third was taken to the Pratt gardens, near Philadelphia. Ten years later the conservatory at Mount Vernon was burned and the palm lost. Thirty-six years later, in 1811, Mrs. Kennon's mother drove in her carriage to a journey of four days to Philadelphia to visit the Pratt gardens, brought several little plants and carried them in a basket to her green-house. One of them was an offshoot of the original sage palm, and today is a veritable Colonial Dame or Daughter of the Revolution. Her three ancestors barely escaped being dumped into Boston harbor with other cargo at the famous tea party.

It is now almost a century old, and has never known another home. Its fruit is not abundant, like the coconut or date palm. It bears a small apricot-shaped fruit only once in several years. Its terminal budding at the end of the stem is a curious thing. It is a small, round, slender spike, or palm branches, but four or five times during Mrs. Kennon's life there has been a wonderful growth of ferns, delicate leaves soft and spongy in texture and color. She has one of last year's growth, beautifully preserved under glass.

When left on the tree until the sap is pressed well down in the trunk, they retain their shape and color many years. She told me that she cut them a little too early last season, and they had withered away about half their natural size. Botanists have examined them with keen interest. It appears to be a cabbage, and slowly unfolds its yellowish brown fern leaves after the fashion of house ferns. If left on the tree they die, like blossoms under a glass dome. They have a room of ferns in the beautiful driveway of Tudor Place beside a large case of precious relics, souvenirs of Mount Vernon, gifts from George and Martha Washington to their daughter and granddaughter.

Mrs. Kennon is a tall, slender, genteel-looking woman, of a goodly age, and courteous, welcoming visitors to the old home, and showing them with dignity and pride the souvenirs of her childhood and the memories of her father's visit to Tudor Place, when she was a little Virginia maid of nine years, and the sage palm was only eleven years old.

Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Melton have sent out invitations for the marriage of their daughter, Margaret Victoria, to Mr. Franklin Monroe, April 20, 7:30 p. m., at their residence, 10 Q Street.

Mrs. W. F. Aldrich, wife of the representative from Alabama, will not receive today.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Gehring, with Mrs. Collins, Mrs. Gehring's mother, are now at Los Angeles, Cal.

DISTRICT NATIONAL GUARD.

Undergoes Rigid Inspection for Field Duty.

The First and Second Regiments of the District National Guard were inspected at the Center Market Armory last night by the colonels commanding and their staff officers.

Gen. Harries and several members of his staff were interested spectators. The inspection was held to determine the fitness of the men for field service and to enable the quartermasters of the various battalions to see exactly what was lacking in the equipment of each man.

The men were in heavy marching order, with blankets, blanket bags, haversacks, canteens and tin cups in their hands, were thoroughly equipped for active service. The companies all made a good appearance, showed the progress in recruiting since they left the old army. Some of them were unable to uniform all the new men, and were compelled to bring them out in civilian dress.

The inspection was carried out in the new regimental formation, or rather, the new formation adopted by the District Guard goes into the field. This ignores the battalion system, and instead of the companies being A, B, C and D and then E, F, G, H, I, J, K, L, M, N, O, P, Q, R, S, T, U, V, W, X, Y, Z, AA, AB, AC, AD, AE, AF, AG, AH, AI, AJ, AK, AL, AM, AN, AO, AP, AQ, AR, AS, AT, AU, AV, AW, AX, AY, AZ, BA, BB, BC, BD, BE, BF, BG, BH, BI, BJ, BK, BL, BM, BN, BO, BP, BQ, BR, BS, BT, BU, BV, BW, BX, BY, BZ, CA, CB, CC, CD, CE, CF, CG, CH, CI, CJ, CK, CL, CM, CN, CO, CP, CQ, CR, CS, CT, CU, CV, CW, CX, CY, CZ, DA, DB, DC, DD, DE, DF, DG, DH, DI, DJ, DK, DL, DM, DN, DO, DP, DQ, DR, DS, DT, DU, DV, DW, DX, DY, DZ, EA, EB, EC, ED, EE, EF, EG, EH, EI, EJ, EK, EL, EM, EN, EO, EP, EQ, ER, ES, ET, EU, EV, EW, EX, EY, EZ, FA, FB, FC, FD, FE, FF, FG, FH, FI, FJ, FK, FL, FM, FN, FO, FP, FQ, FR, FS, FT, FU, FV, FW, FX, FY, FZ, GA, GB, GC, GD, GE, GF, GG, GH, GI, GJ, GK, GL, GM, GN, GO, GP, GQ, GR, GS, GT, GU, GV, GW, GX, GY, GZ, HA, HB, HC, HD, HE, HF, HG, HH, HI, HJ, HK, HL, HM, HN, HO, HP, HQ, HR, HS, HT, HU, HV, HW, HX, HY, HZ, IA, IB, IC, ID, IE, IF, IG, IH, II, IJ, IK, IL, IM, IN, IO, IP, IQ, IR, IS, IT, IU, IV, IW, IX, IY, IZ, JA, JB, JC, JD, JE, JF, JG, JH, JI, JJ, JK, JL, JM, JN, JO, JP, JQ, JR, JS, JT, JU, JV, JW, JX, JY, JZ, KA, KB, KC, KD, KE, KF, KG, KH, KI, KJ, KK, KL, KM, KN, KO, KP, KQ, KR, KS, KT, KU, KV, KW, KX, KY, KZ, LA, LB, LC, LD, LE, LF, LG, LH, LI, LJ, LK, LL, LM, LN, LO, LP, LQ, LR, LS, LT, LU, LV, LW, LX, LY, LZ, MA, MB, MC, MD, ME, MF, MG, MH, MI, MJ, MK, ML, MM, MN, MO, MP, MQ, MR, MS, MT, MU, MV, MW, MX, MY, MZ, NA, NB, NC, ND, NE, NF, NG, NH, NI, NJ, NK, NL, NM, NN, NO, NP, NQ, NR, NS, NT, NU, NV, NW, NX, NY, NZ, OA, OB, OC, OD, OE, OF, OG, OH, OI, OJ, OK, OL, OM, ON, OO, OP, OQ, OR, OS, OT, OU, OV, OW, OX, OY, OZ, PA, PB, PC, PD, PE, PF, PG, PH, PI, PJ, PK, PL, PM, PN, PO, PP, PQ, PR, PS, PT, PU, PV, PW, PX, PY, PZ, QA, QB, QC, QD, QE, QF, QG, QH, QI, QJ, QK, QL, QM, QN, QO, QP, QQ, QR, QS, QT, QU, QV, QW, QX, QY, QZ, RA, RB, RC, RD, RE, RF, RG, RH, RI, RJ, RK, RL, RM, RN, RO, RP, RQ, RR, RS, RT, RU, RV, RW, RX, RY, RZ, SA, SB, SC, SD, SE, SF, SG, SH, SI, SJ, SK, SL, SM, SN, SO, SP, SQ, SR, SS, ST, SU, SV, SW, SX, SY, SZ, TA, TB, TC, TD, TE, TF, TG, TH, TI, TJ, TK, TL, TM, TN, TO, TP, TQ, TR, TS, TT, TU, TV, TW, TX, TY, TZ, UA, UB, UC, UD, UE, UF, UG, UH, UI, UJ, UK, UL, UM, UN, UO, UP, UQ, UR, US, UT, UY, UZ, VA, VB, VC, VD, VE, VF, VG, VH, VI, VJ, VK, VL, VM, VN, VO, VP, VQ, VR, VS, VT, VU, VV, VW, VX, VY, VZ, WA, WB, WC, WD, WE, WF, WG, WH, WI, WJ, WK, WL, WM, WN, WO, WP, WQ, WR, WS, WT, WU, WV, WW, WX, WY, WZ, XA, XB, XC, XD, XE, XF, XG, XH, XI, XJ, XK, XL, XM, XN, XO, XP, XQ, XR, XS, XT, XU, XV, XW, XX, XY, XZ, YA, YB, YC, YD, YE, YF, YG, YH, YI, YJ, YK, YL, YM, YN, YO, YP, YQ, YR, YS, YT, YU, YV, YW, YX, YY, YZ, ZA, ZB, ZC, ZD, ZE, ZF, ZG, ZH, ZI, ZJ, ZK, ZL, ZM, ZN, ZO, ZP, ZQ, ZR, ZS, ZT, ZU, ZV, ZW, ZX, ZY, ZZ.

AT THE THEATERS.

Lafayette—"The Highwayman."

"A Hot Old Time!" The title, "A Hot Time in Old Town" and "You Ain't No Wa'm" for incidental music, would have seemed strangely appropriate last night, and certainly would have been, in view of the fact that the performance of the piece was a most painful of all deaths, stayed away from the theaters with persistence worthy of a better cause. A few houses were able to gather audiences, however, and this was particularly true at the Lafayette Square, where a crowd that comfortably filled all three floors witnessed the first local production of De Koven and Shuster's latest opera, "The Highwayman." The piece, which is a comedy, is a most painful of all deaths, stayed away from the theaters with persistence worthy of a better cause. A few houses were able to gather audiences, however, and this was particularly true at the Lafayette Square, where a crowd that comfortably filled all three floors witnessed the first local production of De Koven and Shuster's latest opera, "The Highwayman." The piece, which is a comedy, is a most painful of all deaths, stayed away from the theaters with persistence worthy of a better cause. A few houses were able to gather audiences, however, and this was particularly true at the Lafayette Square, where a crowd that comfortably filled all three floors witnessed the first local production of De Koven and Shuster's latest opera, "The Highwayman." The piece, which is a comedy, is a most painful of all deaths, stayed away from the theaters with persistence worthy of a better cause. A few houses were able to gather audiences, however, and this was particularly true at the Lafayette Square, where a crowd that comfortably filled all three floors witnessed the first local production of De Koven and Shuster's latest opera, "The Highwayman." The piece, which is a comedy, is a most painful of all deaths, stayed away from the theaters with persistence worthy of a better cause. A few houses were able to gather audiences, however, and this was particularly true at the Lafayette Square, where a crowd that comfortably filled all three floors witnessed the first local production of De Koven and Shuster's latest opera, "The Highwayman." The piece, which is a comedy, is a most painful of all deaths, stayed away from the theaters with persistence worthy of a better cause. A few houses were able to gather audiences, however, and this was particularly true at the Lafayette Square, where a crowd that comfortably filled all three floors witnessed the first local production of De Koven and Shuster's latest opera, "The Highwayman." The piece, which is a comedy, is a most painful of all deaths, stayed away from the theaters with persistence worthy of a better cause. A few houses were able to gather audiences, however, and this was particularly true at the Lafayette Square, where a crowd that comfortably filled all three floors witnessed the first local production of De Koven and Shuster's latest opera, "The Highwayman." The piece, which is a comedy, is a most painful of all deaths, stayed away from the theaters with persistence worthy of a better cause. A few houses were able to gather audiences, however, and this was particularly true at the Lafayette Square, where a crowd that comfortably filled all three floors witnessed the first local production of De Koven and Shuster's latest opera, "The Highwayman." The piece, which is a comedy, is a most painful of all deaths, stayed away from the theaters with persistence worthy of a better cause. A few houses were able to gather audiences, however, and this was particularly true at the Lafayette Square, where a crowd that comfortably filled all three floors witnessed the first local production of De Koven and Shuster's latest opera, "The Highwayman." The piece, which is a comedy, is a most painful of all deaths, stayed away from the theaters with persistence worthy of a better cause. A few houses were able to gather audiences, however, and this was particularly true at the Lafayette Square, where a crowd that comfortably filled all three floors witnessed the first local production of De Koven and Shuster's latest opera, "The Highwayman." The piece, which is a comedy, is a most painful of all deaths, stayed away from the theaters with persistence worthy of a better cause. A few houses were able to gather audiences, however, and this was particularly true at the Lafayette Square, where a crowd that comfortably filled all three floors witnessed the first local production of De Koven and Shuster's latest opera, "The Highwayman." The piece, which is a comedy, is a most painful of all deaths, stayed away from the theaters with persistence worthy of a better cause. A few houses were able to gather audiences, however, and this was particularly true at the Lafayette Square, where a crowd that comfortably filled all three floors witnessed the first local production of De Koven and Shuster's latest opera, "The Highwayman." The piece, which is a comedy, is a most painful of all deaths, stayed away from the theaters with persistence worthy of a better cause. A few houses were able to gather audiences, however, and this was particularly true at the Lafayette Square, where a crowd that comfortably filled all three floors witnessed the first local production of De Koven and Shuster's latest opera, "The Highwayman." The piece, which is a comedy, is a most painful of all deaths, stayed away from the theaters with persistence worthy of a better cause. A few houses were able to gather audiences, however, and this was particularly true at the Lafayette Square, where a crowd that comfortably filled all three floors witnessed the first local production of De Koven and Shuster's latest opera, "The Highwayman." The piece, which is a comedy, is a most painful of all deaths, stayed away from the theaters with persistence worthy of a better cause. A few houses were able to gather audiences, however, and this was particularly true at the Lafayette Square, where a crowd that comfortably filled all three floors witnessed the first local production of De Koven and Shuster's latest opera, "The Highwayman." The piece, which is a comedy, is a most painful of all deaths, stayed away from the theaters with persistence worthy of a better cause. A few houses were able to gather audiences, however, and this was particularly true at the Lafayette Square, where a crowd that comfortably filled all three floors witnessed the first local production of De Koven and Shuster's latest opera, "The Highwayman." The piece, which is a comedy, is a most painful of all deaths, stayed away from the theaters with persistence worthy of a better cause. A few houses were able to gather audiences, however, and this was particularly true at the Lafayette Square, where a crowd that comfortably filled all three floors witnessed the first local production of De Koven and Shuster's latest opera, "The Highwayman." The piece, which is a comedy, is a most painful of all deaths, stayed away from the theaters with persistence worthy of a better cause. A few houses were able to gather audiences, however, and this was particularly true at the Lafayette Square, where a crowd that comfortably filled all three floors witnessed the first local production of De Koven and Shuster's latest opera, "The Highwayman." The piece, which is a comedy, is a most painful of all deaths, stayed away from the theaters with persistence worthy of a better cause. A few houses were able to gather audiences, however, and this was particularly true at the Lafayette Square, where a crowd that comfortably filled all three floors witnessed the first local production of De Koven and Shuster's latest opera, "The Highwayman." The piece, which is a comedy, is a most painful of all deaths, stayed away from the theaters with persistence worthy of a better cause. A few houses were able to gather audiences, however, and this was particularly true at the Lafayette Square, where a crowd that comfortably filled all three floors witnessed the first local production of De Koven and Shuster's latest opera, "The Highwayman." The piece, which is a comedy, is a most painful of all deaths, stayed away from the theaters with persistence worthy of a better cause. A few houses were able to gather audiences, however, and this was particularly true at the Lafayette Square, where a crowd that comfortably filled all three floors witnessed the first local production of De Koven and Shuster's latest opera, "The Highwayman." The piece, which is a comedy, is a most painful of all deaths, stayed away from the theaters with persistence worthy of a better cause. A few houses were able to gather audiences, however, and this was particularly true at the Lafayette Square, where a crowd that comfortably filled all three floors witnessed the first local production of De Koven and Shuster's latest opera, "The Highwayman." The piece, which is a comedy, is a most painful of all deaths, stayed away from the theaters with persistence worthy of a better cause. A few houses were able to gather audiences, however, and this was particularly true at the Lafayette Square, where a crowd that comfortably filled all three floors witnessed the first local production of De Koven and Shuster's latest opera, "The Highwayman." The piece, which is a comedy, is a most painful of all deaths, stayed away from the theaters with persistence worthy of a better cause. A few houses were able to gather audiences, however, and this was particularly true at the Lafayette Square, where a crowd that comfortably filled all three floors witnessed the first local production of De Koven and Shuster's latest opera, "The Highwayman." The piece, which is a comedy, is a most painful of all deaths, stayed away from the theaters with persistence worthy of a better cause. A few houses were able to gather audiences, however, and this was particularly true at the Lafayette Square, where a crowd that comfortably filled all three floors witnessed the first local production of De Koven and Shuster's latest opera, "The Highwayman." The piece, which is a comedy, is a most painful of all deaths, stayed away from the theaters with persistence worthy of a better cause. A few houses were able to gather audiences, however, and this was particularly true at the Lafayette Square, where a crowd that comfortably filled all three floors witnessed the first local production of De Koven and Shuster's latest opera, "The Highwayman." The piece, which is a comedy, is a most painful of all deaths, stayed away from the theaters with persistence worthy of a better cause. A few houses were able to gather audiences, however, and this was particularly true at the Lafayette Square, where a crowd that comfortably filled all three floors witnessed the first local production of De Koven and Shuster's latest opera, "The Highwayman." The piece, which is a comedy, is a most painful of all deaths, stayed away from the theaters with persistence worthy of a better cause. A few houses were able to gather audiences, however, and this was particularly true at the Lafayette Square, where a crowd that comfortably filled all three floors witnessed the first local production of De Koven and Shuster's latest opera, "The Highwayman." The piece, which is a comedy, is a most painful of all deaths, stayed away from the theaters with persistence worthy of a better cause. A few houses were able to gather audiences, however, and this was particularly true at the Lafayette Square, where a crowd that comfortably filled all three floors witnessed the first local production of De Koven and Shuster's latest opera, "The Highwayman." The piece, which is a comedy, is a most painful of all deaths, stayed away from the theaters with persistence worthy of a better cause. A few houses were able to gather audiences, however, and this was particularly true at the Lafayette Square, where a crowd that comfortably filled all three floors witnessed the first local production of De Koven and Shuster's latest opera, "The Highwayman." The piece, which is a comedy, is a most painful of all deaths, stayed away from the theaters with persistence worthy of a better cause. A few houses were able to gather audiences, however, and this was particularly true at the Lafayette Square, where a crowd that comfortably filled all three floors witnessed the first local production of De Koven and Shuster's latest opera, "The Highwayman." The piece, which is a comedy, is a most painful of all deaths, stayed away from the theaters with persistence worthy of a better cause. A few houses were able to gather audiences, however, and this was particularly true at the Lafayette Square, where a crowd that comfortably filled all three floors witnessed the first local production of De Koven and Shuster's latest opera, "The Highwayman." The piece, which is a comedy, is a most painful of all deaths, stayed away from the theaters with persistence worthy of a better cause. A few houses were able to gather audiences, however, and this was particularly true at the Lafayette Square, where a crowd that comfortably filled all three floors witnessed the first local production of De Koven and Shuster's latest opera, "The Highwayman." The piece, which is a comedy, is a most painful of all deaths, stayed away from the theaters with persistence worthy of a better cause. A few houses were able to gather audiences, however, and this was particularly true at the Lafayette Square, where a crowd that comfortably filled all three floors witnessed the first local production of De Koven and Shuster's latest opera, "The Highwayman." The piece, which is a comedy, is a most painful of all deaths, stayed away from the theaters with persistence worthy of a better cause. A few houses were able to gather audiences, however, and this was particularly true at the Lafayette Square, where a crowd that comfortably filled all three floors witnessed the first local production of De Koven and Shuster's latest opera, "The Highwayman." The piece, which is a comedy, is a most painful of all deaths, stayed away from the theaters with persistence worthy of a better cause. A few houses were able to gather audiences, however, and this was particularly true at the Lafayette Square, where a crowd that comfortably filled all three floors witnessed the first local production of De Koven and Shuster's latest opera, "The Highwayman." The piece, which is a comedy, is a most painful of all deaths, stayed away from the theaters with persistence worthy of a better cause. A few houses were able to gather audiences, however, and this was particularly true at the Lafayette Square, where a crowd that comfortably filled all three floors witnessed the first local production of De Koven and Shuster's latest opera, "The Highwayman." The piece, which is a comedy, is a most painful of all deaths, stayed away from the theaters with persistence worthy of a better cause. A few houses were able to gather audiences, however, and this was particularly true at the Lafayette Square, where a crowd that comfortably filled all three floors witnessed the first local production of De Koven and Shuster's latest opera, "The Highwayman." The piece, which is a comedy, is a most painful of all deaths, stayed away from the theaters with persistence worthy of a better cause. A few houses were able to gather audiences, however, and this was particularly true at the Lafayette Square, where a crowd that comfortably filled all three floors witnessed the first local production of De Koven and Shuster's latest opera, "The Highwayman." The piece, which is a comedy, is a most painful of all deaths, stayed away from the theaters with persistence worthy of a better cause. A few houses were able to gather audiences, however, and this was particularly true at the Lafayette Square, where a crowd that comfortably filled all three floors witnessed the first local production of De Koven and Shuster's latest opera, "The Highwayman." The piece, which is a comedy, is a most painful of all deaths, stayed away from the theaters with persistence worthy of a better cause. A few houses were able to gather audiences, however, and this was particularly true at the Lafayette Square, where a crowd that comfortably filled all three floors witnessed the first local production of De Koven and Shuster's latest opera, "The Highwayman." The piece, which is a comedy, is a most painful of all deaths, stayed away from the theaters with persistence worthy of a better cause. A few houses were able to gather audiences, however, and this was particularly true at the Lafayette Square, where a crowd that comfortably filled all three floors witnessed the first local production of De Koven and Shuster's latest opera, "The Highwayman." The piece, which is a comedy, is a most painful of all deaths, stayed away from the theaters with persistence worthy of a better cause. A few houses were able to gather audiences, however, and this was particularly true at the Lafayette Square, where a crowd that comfortably filled all three floors witnessed the first local production of De Koven and Shuster's latest opera, "The Highwayman." The piece, which is a comedy, is a most painful of all deaths, stayed away from the theaters with persistence worthy of a better cause. A few houses were able to gather audiences, however, and this was particularly true at the Lafayette Square, where a crowd that comfortably filled all three floors witnessed the first local production of De Koven and Shuster's latest opera, "The Highwayman." The piece, which is a comedy, is a most painful of all deaths, stayed away from the theaters with persistence worthy of a better cause. A few houses were able to gather audiences, however, and this was particularly true at the Lafayette Square, where a crowd that comfortably filled all three floors witnessed the first local production of De Koven and Shuster's latest opera, "The Highwayman." The piece, which is a comedy, is a most painful of all deaths, stayed away from the theaters with persistence worthy of a better cause. A few houses were able to gather audiences, however, and this was particularly true at the Lafayette Square, where a crowd that comfortably filled all three floors witnessed the first local production of De Koven and Shuster's latest opera, "The Highwayman." The piece, which is a comedy, is a most painful of all deaths, stayed away from the theaters with persistence worthy of a better cause. A few houses were able to gather audiences, however, and this was particularly true at the Lafayette Square, where a crowd that comfortably filled all three floors witnessed the first local production of De Koven and Shuster's latest opera, "The Highwayman." The piece, which is a comedy, is a most painful of all deaths, stayed away from the theaters with persistence worthy of a better cause. A few houses were able to gather audiences, however, and this was particularly true at the Lafayette Square, where a crowd that comfortably filled all three floors witnessed the first local production of De Koven and Shuster's latest opera, "The Highwayman." The piece, which is a comedy, is a most painful of all deaths, stayed away from the theaters with persistence worthy of a better cause. A few houses were able to gather audiences, however, and this was particularly true at the Lafayette Square, where a crowd that comfortably filled all three floors witnessed the first local production of De Koven and Shuster's latest opera, "The Highwayman." The piece, which is a comedy, is a most painful of all deaths, stayed away from the theaters with persistence worthy of a better cause. A few houses were able to gather audiences, however, and this was particularly true at the Lafayette Square, where a crowd that comfortably filled all three floors witnessed the first local production of De Koven and Shuster's latest opera, "The Highwayman." The piece, which is a comedy, is a most painful of all deaths, stayed away from the theaters with persistence worthy of a better cause. A few houses were able to gather audiences, however, and this was particularly true at the Lafayette Square, where a crowd that comfortably filled all three floors witnessed the first local production of De Koven and Shuster's latest opera, "The Highwayman." The piece, which is a comedy, is a most painful of all deaths, stayed away from the theaters with persistence worthy of a better cause. A few houses were able to gather audiences, however, and this was particularly true at the Lafayette Square, where a crowd that comfortably filled all three floors witnessed the first local production of De Koven and Shuster's latest opera, "The Highwayman." The piece, which is a comedy, is a most painful of all deaths, stayed away from the theaters with persistence worthy of a better cause. A few houses were able to gather audiences, however, and this was particularly true at the Lafayette Square, where a crowd that comfortably filled all three floors witnessed the first local production of De Koven and Shuster's latest opera, "The Highwayman." The piece, which is a comedy, is a most painful of all deaths, stayed away from the theaters with persistence worthy of a better cause. A few houses were able to gather audiences, however, and this was particularly true at the Lafayette Square, where a crowd that comfortably filled all three floors witnessed the first local production of De Koven and Shuster's latest opera, "The Highwayman." The piece, which is a comedy, is a most painful of all deaths, stayed away from the theaters with persistence worthy of a better cause. A few houses were able to gather audiences, however, and this was particularly true at the Lafayette Square, where a crowd that comfortably filled all three floors witnessed the first local production of De Koven and Shuster's latest opera, "The Highwayman." The piece, which is a comedy, is a most painful of all deaths, stayed away from the theaters with persistence worthy of a better cause. A few houses were able to gather audiences, however, and this was particularly true at the Lafayette Square, where a crowd that comfortably filled all three floors witnessed the first local production of De Koven and Shuster's latest opera, "The Highwayman." The piece, which is a comedy, is a most painful of all deaths, stayed away from the theaters with persistence worthy of a better cause. A few houses were able to gather audiences, however, and this was particularly true at the Lafayette Square, where a crowd that comfortably filled all three floors witnessed the first local production of De Koven and Shuster's latest opera, "The Highwayman." The piece, which is a comedy, is a most painful of all deaths, stayed away from the theaters with persistence worthy of a better cause. A few houses were able to gather audiences, however, and this was particularly true at the Lafayette Square, where a crowd that comfortably filled all three floors witnessed the first local production of De Koven and Shuster's latest opera, "The Highwayman." The piece, which is a comedy, is a most painful of all deaths, stayed away from the theaters with persistence worthy of a better cause. A few houses were able to gather audiences, however, and this was particularly true at the Lafayette Square, where a crowd that comfortably filled all three floors witnessed the first local production of De Koven and Shuster's latest opera, "The Highwayman." The piece, which is a comedy, is a most painful of all deaths, stayed away from the theaters with persistence worthy of a better cause. A few houses were able to gather audiences, however, and this was particularly true at the Lafayette Square, where a crowd that comfortably filled all three floors witnessed the first local production of De Koven and Shuster's latest opera, "The Highwayman." The piece, which is a comedy, is a most painful of all deaths, stayed away from the theaters with persistence worthy of a better cause. A few houses were able to gather audiences, however, and this was particularly true at the Lafayette Square, where a crowd that comfortably filled all three floors witnessed the first local production of De Koven and Shuster's latest opera, "The Highwayman." The piece, which is a comedy, is a most painful of all deaths, stayed away from the theaters with persistence worthy of a better cause. A few houses were able to gather audiences, however, and this was particularly true at the Lafayette Square, where a crowd that comfortably filled all three floors witnessed the first local production of De Koven and Shuster's latest opera, "The Highwayman." The piece, which is a comedy, is a most painful of all deaths, stayed away from the theaters with persistence worthy of a better cause. A few houses were able to gather audiences, however, and this was particularly true at the Lafayette Square, where a crowd that comfortably filled all three floors witnessed the first local production of De Koven and Shuster's latest opera, "The Highwayman." The piece, which is a comedy, is a most painful of all deaths, stayed away from the theaters with persistence worthy of a better cause. A few houses were able to gather audiences, however, and this was particularly true at the Lafayette Square, where a crowd that comfortably filled all three floors witnessed the first local production of De Koven and Shuster's latest opera, "The Highwayman." The piece, which is a comedy, is a most painful of all deaths, stayed away from the theaters with persistence worthy of a better cause. A few houses were able to gather audiences, however, and this was particularly true at the Lafayette Square, where a crowd that comfortably filled all three floors witnessed the first local production of De Koven and Shuster's latest opera, "The Highwayman." The piece, which is a comedy, is a most painful of all deaths, stayed away from the theaters with persistence worthy of a better cause. A few houses were able to gather audiences, however, and this was particularly true at the Lafayette Square, where a crowd that comfortably filled all three floors witnessed the first local production of De Koven and Shuster's latest opera, "The Highwayman." The piece, which is a comedy, is a